

Vendors – Comancheria Days 2022

Howdy Cowboys and Cowgirls! If there's one thing Cowboy Action Shooters love almost as much as shootin' and dressin' up, it's shoppin' (and buyin') stuff for shootin' and dressin' up! This year's vendor lineup is shaping up nicely so I wanted you to know who to expect to see on Sutter's Row. So fill your pocket book, plan accordingly and support our vendors so they will come back to Texas.

- Cimarron Bullets – Don Betterton will have a stash of Cimarron Bullets available at the match this year. For those who don't know, these are superior cast lead bullets with the J&M Specialty Products P/L HI-TEK Lube - www.cimarronbullets.com
- Lean Dog Productions – Eric H. Heisner – Writer, Actor, & Film Maker - will have Western novels, duds and cowboy bandanas - www.leanogproductions.com
- HearPeace – Lainie Ortman (E.A.R. Provider) will join us and offer custom molded ear plugs. Be sure to swing by her tent on Thursday and/or Saturday.
- Mernickle Holsters – Let Cliff Powers (aka Howlin Wolf) set you up with some new holsters. He will have lots to show you, a little something for everyone's liking. He makes custom holsters for all types of guns - www.mernickleholsters.com
- White Wolf Trading – Cimarron Jones and Anna Allen will have clothing, hats and accessories available at their booth. You'll probably recognize him as fellow shooters and vendors for many years. They love sharing their knowledge of clothing for our sport.
- Taranis Craftworks – Kurt Lorenz is new to our cowboy shoot. We met him at the Kerrville Renaissance Festival earlier this year and really liked his work. He specializes in hand-carved wooden utensils, metal wares, wood and metal art. You won't be disappointed.
- Sweatshop Crafts – We met Walter Lockett recently in Columbus, TX and were really impressed with his craftsmanship. He makes handmade ink pens, seam rippers, CNC engraved wood projects and unique custom engraved Lazy Susans.
- Texas Jack Wild West Outfitter – No Vendor Space - Texas Jack's offers "All things Wild West" from clothing, to shoes, accessories, guns, knives and dry goods. If you haven't visited the store in Fredericksburg, you'll want to stop by there while you are in town for Comancheria Days. They are located on N. Adams St. Texas Jack's is the official showroom for Cimarron F.A. Co. The owners are long-time SASS supporters and SASS Life Members. They have sponsored many matches across the USA and Cowboy Action Shooters since 1987. Visit their website: www.texasjacks.com.
- Manaen M. Schamber, better known as Grouchy Spike – He will have cowboy clothes and leather for sale, so be sure to pay him a visit and see what goodies you might find.
- Tell Sackett – His table will be set up with primers and a couple of pistols. Go by, say hi, and see what he has to offer.
- Miz Ella/R.D. Trapper/Catch a Stitch – This trio will have a lively booth! Go by and visit these great shooter friends. They will have clothes and guns available for you to peruse and purchase.

Food Vendors

- Alex Taco's – Alex to provide daily breakfast tacos and street tacos, as well as hamburgers for lunch.
- Buzzie's Bar-B-Q – Buzzie to provide bar-b-q sandwiches (daily lunches).
- Kona Ice – Yum! Yum! What better treat than a shaved ice cone in almost any flavor you can think of! You will be able to get it on Thursday and Friday of Comancheria Days this year, and we look forward to having the perfect weather for it!

We can't wait to see everyone this year!
